27th March 2015

Dear Parents,

This week you all have a treat! I have handed over the task of writing this week's newsletter to the children of Class 2. They asked if they could tell you all about their super trip to The Eden Project last week. However, I would like to say just one thing before they begin. The trip could not have taken place without the staff team who gave up their own time to attend the visit. I am very grateful to them, as I know you are.

Class Two become Rainforest Explorers

Last Thursday and Friday all the Class 2 children from the Federation went on an adventure to The Eden Project. They arrived at lunch time and had lunch at the Youth Hostel.

In the afternoon they met the Eden Staff and had time to look around the site. Miss Prince took her class on a game of follow my leader. They also pretended to be statues in the Mediterranean Biome.

They then enjoyed rainforest workshops. The Years 5 and 6's were Rainforest Recruits and became a research team, they discussed how to survive in the rainforest and found out about an explorer who went to find the Kumbai Tribe.

The children were split into tribes with their own tribal symbol painted on their hands or faces. Then they went into the Rainforest Biome to find the plants that could give them food and list them, they returned to the classroom to present their findings.

The Year 3 and 4's were Rainforest Rangers and had to find plants that would help them to find food, water and shelter in the rainforest. They sent their findings by email to an explorer.

In the rainforest it was very hot, they could hear the birds singing and the splashing of the waterfall. The plants were exotic and had huge leaves. It was awesome to be in a real rainforest.

After a delicious dinner they went back into the rainforest for a 'Secret Biome' workshop. They worked on using their senses. They played bat and moth, led a friend blindfolded, made up their own piece of music and used torches to help them sketch. It was really magical to be in the rainforest at night.

It was then time to settle down in their Snooze Boxes for a 'good' night sleep. They were great fun to sleep in with friends, although the toilet flush was very noisy!

The next day, after a hearty breakfast they were lucky to watch the solar eclipse using pin hole cameras. The Eden staff also showed them how to view it using a colander. They were fortunate that it was a clear morning with no clouds.

During the morning the children were then split up into their two groups. The Year 3 and 4's went back into the rainforest to look at dens and then built their own dens in the classroom, they only had four materials, tarpaulin, clips, ropes and bamboo. The aim was to make the den waterproof, have two rooms and be sturdy and big enough for the group. Some of the dens even had working doors and a flag. Mr Hastie particularly enjoyed helping!

The Year 5 and 6's were fire making. They made their own clay lamps using oil, used flint and steel to start the fire and made bread to cook over the open fire.

It was then time to have lunch and return to school. It was the end of a magical, awesome, fabulous two days.

Thank you for all your continued support.

God bless and have a lovely Easter.

Best wishes from Katie Gray and the staff at Broadhembury School

We are very pleased to let you know that Story Glory will be offering the after school club again when we return from the Easter Holidays The club will run every Thursday from 3.30 till 6.00pm.

Story Glory is a weekly two and a half hour creative club. Each half term the children will be making and writing a different book all of their own, using different creative techniques and styles of writing. The first book that the children will be making is a story within a puppet theatre with their own finger or sock puppets.

All children from reception to year six are welcome, from those that are passionate writers already to those that might prefer to do less of the writing and more of the exciting arts and crafts activities that are on offer. All of the children will be gently encouraged to use their imaginations and explore writing but reluctant writers will not be pushed and there are plenty of creative and energetic activities to make sure they really enjoy their time at the club while developing their imaginations and gaining confidence. The children will be given different writing tasks depending on their age and ability.

There will be a circle time at the end of each week's session where the children will share parts of their favourite books with each other and be encouraged to get excited about books and reading.

The whole two and a half hour session including the writing and creative activities will need costs £7.50 with an additional 50 pence towards the materials your child will be using.

All of the group leaders are experienced childcare practitioners with full DBS disclosures and insurance. They are supported by one or two parent volunteers who also have full DBS disclosure. If you would like a FREE weekly place for your child please email admin@storyglory.co.uk to apply to become one of our two parent volunteers.

If you visit www.storyglory.co.uk you will find lots more information and you can book a place for your child. Places are limited and bookings are being taken over the next few weeks so please do visit the website and book a place!
